

Alphabet Belgium - Press Release

Shortlist Lease Car of the Year 2018

12 nominees in the running

Aartselaar, 23 February 2018 - Alphabet, together with a panel of experts, is going in search of the lease car of the year. For Alphabet Belgium, this contest offers the perfect opportunity to share expertise, visions for the future and advice with its customers and the sector.

This is already the 26th edition of the Lease Car of the Year competition. The jury, consisting of members of the press, customers and internal specialists of Alphabet, took its first decision yesterday with the selection of the 12 nominees.

The 12 cars nominated for 2018 are:

Objective criteria, such as TCO and Benefit in Kind (BIK), were critically examined during desk research. On 23 March, the nominated cars will also be subjected to an in-depth practical test. Alphabet customers can also cast a vote for their own favourite, further to which the feedback from this important target group will be included in the final tally.

In addition to the Lease Car of the Year there will also be a “best in class” chosen per category. The winning cars will be announced during an award night attended by more than 300 experts and prominent figures in the sector, with the awards ceremony taking place on Thursday 26 April.

Marc Vandenberg, Sales & Marketing Director at Alphabet Belgium, is the Chairman of the Jury. “At Alphabet, we closely monitor the latest trends and technological developments. Our mission is to always provide our customers with the best and soundest advice on sustainable mobility management. The Lease Car of the Year competition is the perfect embodiment of this approach.”

About Lease Car of the Year

The Lease Car of the Year competition is the ideal occasion for Alphabet to share its expertise with vehicle fleet managers in the areas of TCO, sustainability and trend-watching. During the initiative, vehicles put on the Belgian market between 1 February of the previous year and 31 January of the current year are assessed according to their potential for corporate vehicle fleets. A jury of experts, consisting of customers, members of the press and internal specialists, determines the nominees in three steps. The desk research in turn looks at objective criteria such as TCO, safety & quality, emissions and BIK. In a second phase, the cars are subjected to a practical test. Finally, the third part of the points is determined by Alphabet's customers, who also cast a vote for their favourite car.
